CHAIR BASES

The application of leading-edge base technology to perfect every service and enhance the working experience.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR BEST CHAIR BASE

The heart of a salon chair, the chair base

There are many differences between salon chairs and ordinary chairs, but the most important distinction is the lifting function. The chair base is responsible for this function. Inconspicuous yet present in every chair, it plays a vital role in client comfort and working efficiency. Find the perfect base for your salon chair from our unique range.

Three points to consider when choosing a chair base

1 Power

Electric

- The chair base can be raised and lowered frequently without causing a workload.
- Easy to raise and lower even clients of a larger stature.
- Less vibration during lifting.
- Smooth operation without the need for repeated steps.

Foot-operated

- No need for a power supply.
- Wide range of types.
- Low cost

2 Height to suit the clientele and treatment style

Low initial height

Easy to sit on with a low initial height. Especially ideal for the elderly and children, this is also recommended for practitioners of a shorter stature.

Basic

Standard height for both initial height and stroke. This is the most basic type, combining ease of sitting and treatment.

Long stroke

Can be raised to a higher position making it ideal for treatments delivered in a standing position, or in combination with shampoo chairs. Also recommended for taller practitioners.

Electric

Smoothly raises with the flick of a switch, without any jerking motion. The high stroke enables it to accommodate a wide range of clients, even tall ones. Friendly to tall barbers and hairdressers.

3 Design

Selected for compatibility with the upper part of the chair & ease of use.

Round base

All-rounder to suit any chair top.

- Stable
- Easy to clean
- Wide range of variations

5-legged base

Light in form, ideal for compact chair top.

- Light in appearance
- Relatively inexpensive
- Easy to move

Floor mount base

Slim and space-saving look with excellent stability.

- Easy to clean
- Stable

*Fixed to the floor and cannot be moved after installation.

Newly-conceived reclining position provides both comfort and efficiency.

Face angle is held steady while client reclines, making it easier to provide services.

A series of independent belts supports the seat cushioning. Each belt takes in and disperses the body weight being applied to different parts of the chair at varying angles.

Specifications ensure work efficiency.

Neck cushion rotates and locks in place.

The new neck device makes shampooing easier even on clients wearing perm rods.

The foot pedal enables the chair to be reclined and adjusted quickly into the most suitable position.

Footrest assists clients who might need it.
 For shorter clients or others who might need it, this slide-out footrest can make it easier to get in and out of the chair smoothly and to sit comfortably.

Basin design ideal for shampoo-reason 1
To improve access to a client's nape, a key comfort spot, the back of the basin is lower than the front. This design promotes more effective shampooing and massaging.

Basin design ideal for shampoo-reason 2
With a larger and deeper basin than on previous models and shampoo fixtures that leave plenty of space in the centre, the RSIII makes the stylist's job easier than ever.

Tilting basin adjusts to client height.
From its basic vertical position, the basin can be tilted down 12° or up 8° to accommodate each individual client.

Compact, low-splash, aerating shower head comes as standard specification.

Tightly sealed drain opening prevents hair from getting caught.

Takara Belmont's high-tech neck cushion provides comfort for clients of all sizes.

Various functions in a single unit. Simple operation.

A new concept of drying called 'moisture drying' has been added, with three modes to enhance hair design and styling. By freely selecting the mode and setting time, it can be used for a variety of menus and helps salons to increase productivity.

Modes and buttons

DRY mode

Roughly dries hair in a way that suits the hair length. Moisture is trapped in the hair to make it easy to style. This mode is also good for a consistent level of drying-work in the salon.

SHORT	MEDIUM	LONG
Swing angle: 180°	Swing angle: 180°	Swing angle: 120°
Operating time: 5min.	Operating time: 7min.	Operating time: 10min.

The amount of heat and swing angle varies with the hair length. Short hair is dried, with the nape and around the ears kept away from excess heat. Long hair is dried evenly from the roots to the ends.

HEAT mode

Facilitates colour fixation, the chemical reaction of perming agents, and penetration of treatment into the hair. You can choose between whole and partial heating of the hair, depending on the salon menu. Using this mode boosts not only hair designability but also the efficiency of salon work.

AUTO	MANUAL
Swing angle: 540°	Swing angle: 360°
For evenly heating all of the hair covered in a hair cap or plastic wrap	For heating all of the hair in other ways

For heating long hair effectively and evenly.

AUTO
The heater unit repeats one and a half rotations (once forward and twice backward).
MANUAL
The heater unit rotates.

COOL mode

This mode facilitates fixation of colour and treatment (after the hair is heated). This is also recommended for controlling the sensation of warmth in hot season.

COOL
Swing angle: 180°

CARE DRY G meets many other detailed needs.

- Remaining time is changeable during the operation, for example, when you want to dry the hair more or make the staff's hands free for a little bit longer.
- Operating temperature is changeable depending on the hair design and the client's taste.
- To return the heater unit to the initial position, make sure the unit is not operating and then hold down the RESET button.

As a world-first innovation that's earned iconic status in the world of hair care and colour, ROLLER BALL F, with its distinctive rotating ring, creates theatre and gives life to hair at any styling station. Its far-infrared accelerator uses a high-efficiency carbon heating element with fast, flexible irradiation temperature control. ROLLER BALL F expands the possibilities for hair design, delivering genuine results and maximising the potential for business growth.

WALL-MOUNTED COMPONENTS

OPTION

Promotes penetration and retention of colourants and perm agents

Degree of Penetration into Hair and Persistence
(comparison using an acidic dye)

With ROLLER BALL F, the dye was absorbed and took hold evenly. Even after the hair was shampooed seven times, there was relatively little loss of colour.

Comparison of Curling Strength
(comparison using a curling agent)

Despite the shorter exposure time of ROLLER BALL F, the chemical agents are absorbed quickly, and the curl takes full effect, all the way to the tips.

Colour, perms and treatments penetrate evenly

The heater is divided in to three blocks - the top, crown and sides, the nape and the faceline. The amount of irradiation for each is changed to achieve more even temperature distribution. The top section, which tends to be hotter, is set to a lower irradiation energy level. The nape section, which needs to be heated firmly is set to a higher irradiation energy level. This maximises the even penetration of colour, perms and treatments in different areas leading to a beautiful and uniform finish.

The element is divided into three blocks, with the amount of energy set to the appropriate level for each block.

Example of setting

There is a uniform distribution of temperature from the top to the nape.

Efficient irradiation of only the necessary areas

Taking advantage of the fast ON/OFF response performance of the carbon heater, irradiation is controlled ON/OFF at three locations (front, side and nape) while the ring is rotating. Only necessary areas can be irradiated, e.g. only the nape. By irradiating only those parts of the body with a high level of entrapment or areas that are less susceptible to the action of the solution, the client can receive the treatment comfortably. It is also possible to fix the ring to the required area.

Irradiate only the necessary parts while rotating!

Turning off the beam to the front area, which heats up more quickly and is more sensitive to heat, slightly lowers the temperature at the sides and nape. The client enjoys a comfortable treatment, and the technician is able to efficiently process sections that need more energy while keeping the whole area warm, leading to improved results.

High performance carbon heaters

Instead of a conventional ceramic heater, ROLLER BALL F uses a new, highly efficient carbon heater that uses high-purity carbon (99.8% pure) as the heating element. Its greatest feature is its overwhelming speed and power. It enables circular processing, which was difficult in the past, and was the first in the industry* to be installed in a far-infrared accelerator.

*As of August 2011.

From start-up to 40° in about 2.5 minutes. It's 2 minutes less!*

Compared with conventional ceramic heaters, carbon heaters have a faster rise to the set temperature and have significantly more energy in the wavelength range that acts on the hair and chemicals, so they firmly promote colour fixing and perm (dual-step tepid permanent wave agent) reaction even in a short time. It improves the efficiency of salon work.

*Compared with our conventional model.

Healthy hair is at the root of all beauty

The hairstyles that clients long to have are only possible with healthy, supple hair, down to the tips. SPA MIST II moisturises the scalp, hair and mind with a soft, fine mist. The combination of YUME SPA with a YUME series wash unit and SPA MIST II, is where you can comfortably experience a complete hair care menu, as well as colouring and perms, to give your hair a beautiful finish while caring for its health and well-being. By focusing on the power and potential of mist, Takara Belmont developed an ultrasonic transducer to generate a mist of microscopic water particles at exceptionally low temperature. Vibrating at 1.6 million times per second, this ultra-fine mist has transformed processing technologies. And, by significantly reducing the operating temperature, SPA MIST II enhances treatment experiences and outcomes, while eliminating the risk of heat damage to the hair and scalp that's associated with traditional steam processors.

Controllable mist temperature and quantity

As the mist is produced by an ultrasonic transmitter, temperature control is easier than with high-temperature steam mist, which increases comfort levels for the client. The amount of mist produced can be freely adjusted. Automatic setting of mist level, temperature level and time is also possible.

Designed for client and operator comfort

During the treatment, clients feel relaxed without seeing the hood in front of their eyes. Thanks to the retracted hood, the hood opens to allow easy application of a second or third application, even with multiple-application treatment products.

Separate ducts designed for the cooling air and mist

Mist emanating from the sides into the hood gently envelops the entire head, while cooled air is released from the rear centre to quickly cool the heated mist down.

Water tank ready to be used for 20 clients

With a large tank that shows the amount of the water left inside, a full tank of water serves approximately 20 clients (when used for 8 minutes per client). Even during busy hours, operation proceeds smoothly without interruption.

Saves space when stored

The hood section can rise vertically so that it does not take space for storage. Its damper structure gives a soft feeling.

Features common to SPA MIST II and MICRO MIST

How SPA MIST II and MICRO MIST work to repair damaged hair.

What does damaged hair mean?

Hair damage is a condition where surface cuticles peel away and inner elements are seeping out through the cuticle layers. When losing its CMC (cell membrane complex), gaps are caused; these 'flow channels' does not allow colouring chemicals and perming solutions to penetrate deeply in the hair and they allow protein to escape from the hair. The important point of hair care is to fill and repair the channels between the chemicals with treatment agents.

Healthy hair

CMC is found between cuticles and it securely guards the hair.

Damaged hair

CMC flows out of hair and cuticles are being peeled off. The inner part of the cuticle itself is also damaged.

Action of micro mist (01-04: conceptual diagrams)

01 Micro mist heated to a temperature of 40-50°C (105-125°F) helps swelling of hair. Cuticles on the surface open out.

02 Heated micro mist activates the molecular movement of treatment particles and lets them penetrate into the hair through opened cuticles.

03 Treatment particles penetrate even deeper into the hair shaft, caring cuticles and supplying CMC.

04 By cooling down the air rapidly, treatment particles get fixed to the hair.

Performance of Mist Processors

*Similar results were achieved with treatment agents.

POINT 1

Uniform heating for a consistent finish

Mist fills the cap, infusing the hair with uniform moisture and warmth. Enveloped by a gentle mist, every strand of hair is naturally infused with cosmetic ingredients for a consistent finish.

POINT 2

Sustain the treatment effect with fast cooling

The cooling function locks treatment particles and colour pigments into each hair shaft. The mist heating and cooling functions combine to achieve longer-lasting results.

POINT 3

Relaxation

Taking relaxation to the next level, Open Mist provides gentle heating for comfort, along with a soothing aroma for a high-class hair care experience.

HAIR CARE

Penetrates deep into hair for longer-lasting effect

- Opens the cuticle layers so that treatment particles can penetrate deep into the hair.
- Cooling closes the cuticles to lock ingredients in the hair and keep it healthy.

Level of penetration and durability

Data 1, 2, and 3 are based on tests in which the dyeing capacity and level of penetration on a hair bundle are assessed using acid dye on human grey hairs.

Data 1: Surface comparison (after applying dye)

	Immediately after treatment	After 7 shampoos
With mist treatment Heating: 15 min. Cooling: 5 min.		 The blue dye adheres well, and there is little colour loss even after 7 shampoos.
Without mist treatment 15 min.

Data 2: Cross section comparison (after applying dye)

	Immediately after treatment	After 7 shampoos
With mist treatment Heating: 15 min. Cooling: 5 min.		 A large amount of blue dye has penetrated the hair with little colour loss even after 7 shampoos.
Without mist treatment 15 min.

Data 3: Comparison of dyeing capacity and lasting strength

The hair bundle in Data 1 was measured with a spectrophotometer and a graph was made using the K/S value, which is an equivalent of the dye concentration value (absorbance value).

Measuring the dye concentration by absorption of light, when compared to a hair bundle in which the dye sets naturally, a mist-treated hair bundle has higher dyeing capacity and greater durability just after treatment and even after seven shampoos.
